HELP FOR SAVANNAH.

Let no one censure the authorities people of our noble sister city bravely tried to meet every demand that arose They did meet every demand upon their benevolence, and no one was permitted to suffer after they went to work. But the pestilence has reached such proportions that their means are entirely inadequate, and they are compelled to appeal to other cities for help. The braye men and women who remain at their posts should receive all the material aid that they need in their efforts to fight down the fever. The risk, the chief sacrifice, from the presence of the epidemic.

5. Payne, the county treasurer against whom this order and judgment was awarded, never had any notice of the proceedings upon which it was obtained, was no party thereto, and never had his day in court to be heard or to show cause, so far as the record dis-closes why the order and judgment requiring and commanding him as county treasury to pay the said account of $756.25, should not be granted. The first notice that he appears to have had of the proceedings, was on the 14th of February, 1876, when he acknowledged on the writ of mandamus issued by the clerk in pursuance of that order and judgment, and waived a copy thereof and refused to pay the amount thereof and refused to pay the amount claimed therein when demanded of him by the sheriff's attorney. On the statement of facts contained in the record, this judgment is, in one respect, like that peace of mind of which we read, it "surpasseth all understanding," especially all legal understanding. specially all legal understanding.

WARNER, C. J.

This was a motion to set aside a judgment in the city court of Atlanta. It appears from the second and bill of exceptions, that a sure was pending in said city court in favor of Build as ainst Lambert, the defendant, that in the forenoon of the first day of the trial term of said court; when the case was called on the docket for trial, it was in default, and there belong no attorney's manner marked on the docket for the defendant, nor plea of any sort to be found in the ciert's office, the court after hearing the plaintiff's evidence.

part. Besides it is a significant fact that the defendant did not procure the affi-davit of Thrasher & Thrasher as to the time, and terms of their employment to defend the suit, instead of relying upon his own indefinite statement alone. There was not such an abuse of the discretion of the court below in refusing to set aside the judgment on the statement of facts disclosed in the record, as will authorize this court to interfere and control it. Courts must necessarily be clothed with a large discretion in conducting the business therein, and this court will be slow to interfere with that discretion inless it is manifestly apparent that there has been a gross abuse of it.

NASI, INDIANAPOLIS, COLUBBUS, TOLBUS, CLAYE, AND, AND ERIE, WITHOUT CHANGE.

Its main line is laid with double and third tracks of heavy steel rails, upon a deep bed of bruken stone ballast, and its bridges are all of iron or stone. Its passenger trains are equipped with every known improvement for counfort and safety, and are run at faster speed for greater distances than the trains of any line on the continent. The Company has largely increased its equipment for Centennial travel, and will be prepared to build its own shops locomotives and passenger cars at short notice sufficient to fully accommodate any extra demand. The unequalled resources at the command of the Company guarantee the most perfect accommodation for all its pas, one during the tentennial Exhibition.

THE MAGNIFICENT FCENERY for which the Pennsylvania Railroad is so justly celebrated presents to the traveler over its perfect roadway an ever-changing panorama of river, mountain and landscape views unequalled in a merica.

THE RATING-STATIONS on this line are unsurpassed. Meals will be furnished at suitable-hours and ample time allowed for enjoying 'tem.

EXCURSION TICKETS, at reduced rates, will be sold at all principal Railroad Ticket Offices in the West, North-West, South-West.
